

Father Edward's Notebook

Dear Parishioners,

Today in our gospel a rich man comes to Jesus and asks him what he must do to inherit eternal life. Jesus tells him that he needs to sell all that he has and give it to the poor. St. Anthony of Egypt, a desert Father, heard this gospel proclaimed one day, and took it to heart. He did sell all that he had and bravely followed Jesus as desert monk.

While Jesus might not be asking us to sell everything and give it to the poor, I think Jesus does ask us to support the impoverished and hungry. I am grateful to Fr. Michael Goodavish, who is an itinerant preacher for Food for the Poor and his willingness to be with you this weekend while I am on retreat. I am sure he will open our eyes to the needs of the poor throughout the world. I cannot expect you to support this cause, if I myself do not. Please know that I have already sent in my charitable donation in hopes of providing a goat and 500 meals for hungry children. While we will never know the effect of our gift this side of heaven, I am sure those whose lives benefit from our generosity will greet us in the kingdom of heaven. I am reminded of Jesus' command in the gospel; that when we feed the hungry and clothe the naked, we did it to Him. Let's help Jesus who comes to us in the distressing disguise of the poor.

Autumn Blessings,

Fr. Edward Looney

Kewaunee County Literacy

Helping others is one of the most charitable gifts you can give another person. The gift of literacy to improve reading, writing, and speaking skills enables another person to find employment, effectively function in our community, and lead a happier life. Literacy Partners of Kewaunee County is looking for volunteer tutors who will work one on one with a student. No teaching experience is needed. Call Bob Garfinkel before October 18th at 920-676--2061 for date and time of a tutor information evening (orientation), training dates, general questions, or to register for orientation.
