

Father Edward's Notebook

Dear Parishioners,

We are in the final moments of our Advent season. Our time of preparation climaxes tomorrow evening as we celebrate Christmas Eve. We will welcome a great number of people at Mass on Monday and Tuesday, especially at our 4:00 Christmas Eve Mass. During this Advent season we have already been praying in advance of their arrival, that God will work wonders in their life, especially those who may not hold the Sunday Eucharist as a high priority.

Today in our gospel we hear of hospitality, that of Elizabeth welcoming Mary, and Mary helping Elizabeth for three months. Here are a few tips for Christmas hospitality here at Church:

1. Be willing to move into the center of the pew, rather than having people step over you.
2. If there are not enough song books in the pew for everyone, consider sharing, and letting someone use yours.
3. Offer your seat to someone who is handicapped.
4. Only sit in the Parent Room if you have a child.
5. Greet everyone with a friendly smile.
6. Hold the door open for people as you make your way to the entrance.
7. Don't make negative comments about who is at Church when they are directly in front of you (or at all for that matter), there is a good chance they can hear you.
8. Tell someone you are so happy to see them at Church and invite them back.

Let's strive to make a good impression so that our visitors might feel they are welcomed to join us for Sunday Mass in the future.

Advent Blessings,

Fr. Edward
